

“Spend a steamy night at the Hilton Amsterdam where legendary lovers John Lennon and Yoko Ono staged their Bed-In for Peace in 1969”

♥ ARM IN ARM
THROUGH AMSTERDAM

With its glittering canals, cobbles glinting with frost and glimmering houseboats, you can't get much dreamier than Amsterdam in early spring. Splash some cash and get yourselves kitted out in flirty dresses and cool boots and suits in the funky boutiques along the Nine Streets (www.theninestreets.com), then get hot under the collar admiring erotic artwork and suggestive artefacts housed in the city's Sex Museum (18 Damrak, www.sexmuseumamsterdam.nl). Book ahead for Boom Chicago's Chapel of Love (12 Leidseplein, www.boomchicago.nl) Valentine's night, a hilarious soiree with cabaret, three-course dinner and mock weddings performed by an Elvis Presley lookalike, then spend a steamy night at the Hilton Amsterdam (138 Apollolaan, tel: +31 (0)20 710 6000, www1.hilton.com) where legendary lovers John Lennon and Yoko Ono staged their 'Bed-In for Peace' in 1969.

